Bob, one of the Memory Campers, inspired us to do this project.

We are also inspired by artist Andrew Goldsworthy.

Our final inspiration comes from Memory Camp, Co-Founder Susan McFadden. As we make plans for the project she writes in from 16-Mile Lake (in the UP):

"When I was a little girl in the 50s, my family went to East Boothbay, ME, a couple times to stay in a cottage built by my great-grandfather. Once, we took a boat out to Squirrel Island where island residents had for many years built fairy houses in the island forests.

Now there are many books and websites about these little places of imagination. I built mine about 15 years ago before the tree was cut down. Then I added the stones and wood structure. The little figures sometimes disappear and I replace them."

We are so excited to embark on the project with you!
We look forward to seeing what you create!
